

Ship ahoy! The Crew team proves that it can stand up against the biggest and the best on a practice outing.

Row, row, row your boat! The Crew team has a good time showing its stuff at the Homecoming parade.

Leave, ho! The Crew team gets ready to splash down into Matoaka for another early morning practice.

Into the woods. Members of the Crew teams have fun together, whether they're in the water or not. All the early morning practices, strained muscles, and regatta competitions gave them plenty of opportunities to get to know each other and become friends.
